Panel Investigates Civil Rights

A panel of seven sat in West Palm Beach and heard testimony on Glades civil rights compliance Saturday.

The panel, the Florida Advisory Committee to the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, heard that several complaints of noncompliance with the civil rights legislation had been made in the Glades area but did not give specific information, reported Charles Royal.

Royal, along with Chief of Police Charles D. Goodlett, Rev. Henry E. Green, Pastor of the Mt. Zion, AME Church and Rev. Paul L. Thompson, of the St. John's Episcopal Church were invited to testify as a group to the Committee.

The meeting was closed and the Belle Glade group did not know who had preceded them in testimony.

"We told the Belle Glade story," Goodlett said. "The panel made no comment but they asked the usual questions about migratory living conditions etc. It was like hearing a record you have memorized being played one more time."

"Evidently someone earlier in the testimony told a pretty rugged story about the Glades."

Royal said: "At least two of the panel members seemed to have had the attitude towards our testimony of 'Ho Hum, I've already read this fairy tale, others seemed genuinely interested."

At least one member wanted to see the Glades. "In my hand, The Belle Glade group requested that if another inquiry was held that it be located in the Glades so the committee could take field trips and see some of the conditions under question first hand."

"I was afraid it would be cut and dried but was generally pleased with the receptiveness of the group as a whole to seeing reasons for many existing problems. For instance, they seemed much concerned with standard of living among farm

Belle Glade Library Opens Tuesday

LIBRARY GREW WITH TOWN

BY LAWRENCE E. WILL

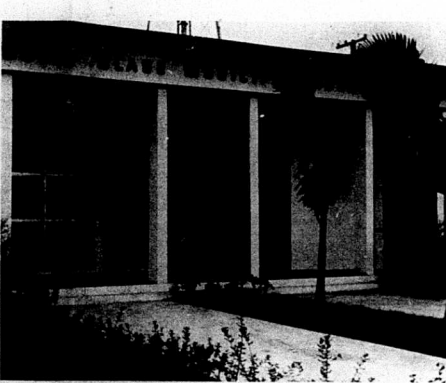

Lister folks, if you haven't been there yet, just look to sashay down to Belle Glade's new library. You know, down there on south Main St. it is, right spang in the midst of the city park. A stomped down building it is too, by golly, right pretty inside and out, with plenty of lights, soft carpeting, and shelves and racks enough to hold the Library of Congress, nearabout. I reckon that Mrs. Bettie Harris will be right proud to officiate in a layout like this.

And the park itself is a fine background to be sure no city would be ashamed of it. There's the Woman's Club building and the kids' playground. There's acres of green lawn, and plenty of big shade trees here and yonder. Shucks, they've even got some custard apple trees too, just to let future generations know what those famous trees used to look like here.

So now we've got a right fine park and a lovely library too. But everything has got to have a start, so let me tell you all how these things came to be. The two of them sort of go together just like house-and-eggs-and-gris.

Back in the year of 1919, right after the end of World War I, I was running a freight boat from what became in course of time the city of Belle Glade. I'd run from here to Torrey Island, South Bay and Okaloosa, then down the North New River Canal to Ft. Lauderdale then thru the Main Street bridge to Miami. There was blamed few settlers along these canals then. (Of course everybody lived beside the canals, for it was a right smart while before we got any roads.)

There were about 20 families and single men in what now are Belle Glade and Clewiston. Some of their names you'll recognize — Stein, Schlechter, Greer and Eggleston for instance. Some of their young-

Peddlers Bill Passed Monday

The Legislature Monday crimped the style of peddlers in Palm Beach County with the passage of House Bill 2298. The bill covers roadside selling in most areas of unincorporated Palm Beach County and violators can be charged with a misdemeanor.

The bill was spearheaded by Rep. Joseph W. Humphrey, who was supported by the entire Palm Beach County delegation, said Bernard Lee, president of the Merchants Association of the Chamber of Commerce.

Lee and former Merchants Association president, Charles Royal, were instrumental in acquainting the delegation with the peddler problem in the Glades area beginning prior to the convening of the legislature.

The peddling problem, Lee said, has been through litigation when peddlers contested arrest on the basis of county zoning regulations prohibiting selling on agriculturally zoned land. Rulings upheld the agricultural zoning prohibition of peddling. Lee said, but now zoning regulations are backed up by state law.

The peddlers, catering mostly to Jamaican sugar cane laborers, were taking huge sums of money from the area without any return through taxes or reinvestment. The total peddlers have taken from the area has been estimated at over $1 million but may be as high as $2 million, Lee said.

The Palm Beach County delegation, Lee said, has corrected a problem that has existed for years. Humphrey received particular support from Senator L. A. "Skip" Balfanz, and Representatives Don Reed and Robert C. DeYoung.

The bill makes it "unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish any tent, stand, booth, display, or park a trailer, automobile or other vehicle of conveyance on any right of way of any public road, recreational area, drainage districts rights of way, roadside park or flood control district rights of way, lying within any area currently zoned as an agricultural district or area, outside the corporate limits of any municipality in Palm Beach County for the purpose of peddling or offering for sale goods, wares, or merchandise."

"I also foresee that this committee getting together civic and business leaders may draw attention to the effect of the tax structure on, especially agri-business. If inequities in this type of area can be brought out and a unified effort made to correct them, it could be of direct benefit to the Glades area. This is also another opportunity for the coastal concerns in Palm Beach County to learn more about the Glades, and its role in a growing County."

H. Zumph On Promotion Board

Harold Zumph has been appointed to represent the Glades on the citizen's committee studying the promotion of industry, tourism and business in Palm Beach County.

The citizen's committee is charged with investigating the feasibility of a single organization for this promotion.

"At this stage of the game we are not really making a lot of decisions, Zumph said. "We are gathering information for a recommendation. The proposed board would represent the entire county. We have contacted all cities and Chamber of Commerce's to find how much money is being spent on the promotion of industry, tourism and business and to get opinions on a county unit which would pool some of the funds."

This would not eliminate local efforts, especially in tourism, but would eliminate much overlapping in attracting business and industry.

"We have already received a great deal of cooperation in gathering statistical data and general information."

"I also foresee that this committee getting together civic and business leaders may draw attention to the effect of the tax structure on, especially agri-business. If inequities in this type of area can be brought out and a unified effort made to correct them, it could be of direct benefit to the Glades area. This is also another opportunity for the coastal concerns in Palm Beach County to learn more about the Glades, and its role in a growing County."

LIBRARY MOVES HOME TO PARK

The Belle Glade Municipal Library came "home" to McDonald Park Tuesday.

In the opening of the $100,000 facility Tuesday the library moved from increasingly cramped quarters beside the Police Station in converted residence to the park where the library had its beginnings.

The move culminates a community drive to raise funds to furnish the facility as well as a $17 thousand dollar construction project of the City of Belle Glade. The community drive raised over $13,000 of the approximate $22,000 furnishing cost. Purchases for the new building ranged from book stacks to reading section furniture for patron.

The furnishing of the facility has delayed opening of the library since its completion in May. Orders could not be placed for the furnishings until the fund drive was well under way and once ordered, delivery of the specialized furniture took up to three months. The community fund drive was spearheaded by the Belle Glade Women's Club. The clubhouse for this group served as the library building for many years prior to the move to the converted residence.

Mrs. Joseph R. Orsenigo, chairman of the Library Board said formal dedication of the library will be Sept. 10, after school is in session and most of the community has returned from summer vacations. Other members of the Library Board are Mrs. Richard Shoemaker, Mrs. James Caselman, Mrs. James Bull, Mrs. Homer Hand, Curtis Thompson Jr., and Mrs. Herman Close.

The library will be open during the summer from 8:30 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m., Tuesday through Saturday, and on Thursday nights from 6:30 a. m. until 9 p. m.

The library's 12,000 book collection will be supplemented by the loan of 1,000 books from the state library association.

Two & half Miles Right of Way Promised

Two and one half miles of donated right of way for the four lane of State Road 80 has already been received by the Canal Hazards Safety Committee here.

The committee is sending letters asking for affirmation of intention to negotiate the donation of right of way to 20 major land owners along the proposed route No. 2 of a four-lane State Road 80 which would be a continuation of Okeechobee Road from West Palm Beach to the Glades County line. Letters were sent Friday to land owners west of Twenty Mile Bend and two replies were received Tuesday.

Letters to land owners east of Twenty Mile Bend will be delivered personally by committee members this week, said Chairman George Lebron Williams.

The donation of most or all of the needed right of way may encourage public officials to take faster action on the four lane proposal, Williams said.

The committee was also informed at its regular meeting Wednesday that the South

Commissioners Rezone

The Belle Glade City Commission heard request for rezoning and removal of property from the city limits.

Rezoning was requested for the Standard Oil station location on South Main Street and Ave. E. It was approved on first reading to be zoned Business Liberal instead of Business Restricted, following the recommendation of the Planning Board.

Robert M. Hooker requested 45 acres west of Duda Road, in the triangle of Duda Road and State Road 80 be removed from the city limits. The land was annexed in 1964 at the request of an officer of the corporation without the approval of the board of directors for a majority of stockholders, Hooker said.

"We thought we could live with it," Hooker said, "but the county's valuation has increased 380% and the City evaluates it even higher."

The land is being used for sugar cane and the margin of profit no longer includes the two taxes, Hooker said. Action of the request was tabled by acting Vice Mayor E. R. Weathers, to await consideration of the complete commission.

Mayor Bill J. Bailey and Commissioner Aubrey Farmer were both absent Monday. The Mayor's City Manager, was also absent.

Commissioners heard Dawson L. Newton, Executive Director of the Ocean Sciences and Engineering Council of Palm Beach County present budget needs for the coming year and briefly explain the City's work.

The City of Belle Glade is requested to budget $500 towards the Council's $53,571 budget, Newton said now only would industry locate on the coastal areas but they would possibly conduct tests in the fresh water lake.

Commissioner Connie Bowen said the Commission would consider the request when budget sessions began in several months.

Newton said many beautiful and educational films about the Ocean Science work being done in Palm Beach County are available through the office. He requested that interested groups provide a month's notice if interested in the free film service.

worn out the day before. The kids all walked of course, totting their lunches and bottles of drinking water. It was a couple of years before the school board got generous enough to install a well and pump so they could wash their dirty hands.

So that's how our city park got started, but after the hurricane in 1928 washed the school house away, the local

Woman's Club decided to build themselves a home where the school had been. The school board decided then the property, then with the help of the Garden Club (since most of the ladies belong to both), and by dint of many fund raising schemes, help from public spirited friends in West Palm Beach and labor donated by the local carpenters, they built the Club House which you see today, and it became the home of Belle Glade's library.

But a start on the library had been made long years before, a feeble start to be sure. The wonder is that it survived. A few years before a hurricane, a Col. Harbison who had moved from South Bay to a farm at Vero Beach near the present bowling alley had donated a book case, and it plumb full of books, to the settlers here. This was in the Riedel Hotel about where the Cottage Grill restaurant is now. Of course the storm destroyed the hotel and most of the books, but a new batch of books, in the same book case, was installed in the Red Cross tent which had been donated by the citizens of Jacksonville. When the Woman's Club building was completed Mr. Chandler, the Athletic Assn., and others from the coast, donated books until there were about 500. A few local ladies spent many hours repairing, classifying and arranging these books.

Among them were Mrs. Adrain Daane and Mrs. Thos. Breger from the Experiment Station, but particularly Mrs. Etta B. Browne who had helped to organize the Garden Club and the Woman's Club, and had been first president of the latter. Naturally, of course, she became the first librarian.

In 1945 Marjorie Stoneman Douglas while getting material for her famous book, "The Everglades River of Grass" wrote in the Miami Herald:

"In my recent travels about about 400 members, and this in a region where people say there is little or no interest in books."

A few years ago the library again was moved, this time to an abandoned residence beside the police station. Mrs. Harris was librarian by this time and she could listen to the city prisoners singing the "Jailhouse Blues" while she worked. I tell you folks, this was a heap of gratitude to Mrs. Harris and to all those ladies of the Library Board. They've done a heap for us, but I just wish that Mrs. Etta Browne could see this fine new library which she started so many years ago.

This fascinating country around Lake Okechobee, one of the most noteworthy people I have run across is Mrs. J. F. Browne, who for years has been the guiding force and the hard working librarian of the small but well chosen Free Public Library of the town of Belle Glade. . . Now the city of Belle Glade supplies small, almost infinitesimal amount per month to buy books and pay the women who do the work a pittance to make it worth their while. They have a really free library, however, and nearly 3,000 volumes, and a list of a

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

ANTI-CRIME MEASURES

Aware of increasing public concern about crime in America, the Johnson administration is pushing hard for enactment of a safe streets and crime control bill. As usual, the Great Society is trying to solve problems of human behavior with vast expenditures. It proposes that $1.35 billion be spent on grant-in-aid programs to the cities of the nation. These grants would be used for anti-crime research and improving police facilities.

Now it is certainly true that police facilities need updating. U. S. towns and cities, long have erred in failing to devote sufficient attention and funds to police forces. American policemen, in most communities, are poorly paid. The result is that law enforcement is not as attractive employment.

The solution to this problem, and it is developing in well-managed communities, is for the towns and cities themselves to spend more on police functions. Upgrading the police does not require vast federal outlays. In fact, one can be sure that if the federal government starts financing the local police, then it is only a matter of time before the U. S. has a national police force.

Such a force is not the kind of tool that should be given to Big Government. The FBI, under director J. Edgar Hoover, has wisely resisted efforts to turn the bureau into that kind of national police agency.

Even if the federal expenditure on police facilities are justified, the administration plan is deficient in one serious area. That is, the governors of states haven't any voice in saying how the federal funds are to be spent.

Republicans on the House Judiciary Committee have tried to give the governors an advisory voice in matters affecting the states, but the administration has blocked it.

In the same paper they was another piece that said Secretary McNamara was conducting a investigation to see how he could get more men for field duty in Vietnam.

If he would get around to emptying out the Pentagon Building of several thousand red tape clerks he would have enough to mop up the Reds in Viet Nam in spite of the State Department policy we've had in Korea and Viet Nam that it ain't nice to mop up the enemy.

Of course, Mister Editor, I ain't on the President's staff and I ain't a very big taxpayer, so I don't expect my suggestion to stir nothing up.

I was reporting on these two matters to the fellers at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle, that claims the Lord picked St. Peter to guard the Pearly Gates on account of St. Peter was a Republican, took a unusual stand on the situation. He said he was in favor of that-Pentagon fire department, claimed if it burned down they would build one back that was as big as the one that burned down. He better let them thousands of clerks alone, said if we turned 'em loose in Viet Nam they would get lost in the brush and it would cost more to get 'em out there than it was worth.

It was the first time Ed has took sides with the Government since the day Ike went out of office and all the fellers at the store was a little shocked.

But Ed didn't leave 'em shocked very long. He come right back with a report he had saw in the papers where the Office of Economic Opportunity had spent $410,000 since last Spring making films to use in the war on poverty. Ed said this piece was wrote by a Washington column writer who had took the figgers official from the records.

Ed had brunk the piece along with him and on account of the storekeeper still ain't got him that blackboard yet, he had to paste it on the wall behind the cheese box again. It was wrote by a feller named William Steif. I ain't going to bother you, Mister Editor, with the details on account of I know you a to go busy with your Zip Code snacking mail. I'd West, but I'll give you one taste. They spent $44,000 a 30-minute film showing how to set up a "safe front and train neighborhood help." It's wonderful to be pure these days.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I was reading these two pieces in the papers that a feller could fit together pretty good. First off, one piece said the Pentagon had now got their own fire department. They claimed they had about 18 miles of hallways and they needed a fire engine they could operate up and down them 18 miles. So they got this special fire engine and then hire a 21-man fire department.

In the same paper they was another piece that said Secretary McNamara was conducting a investigation to see how he could get more men for field duty in Viet Nam.

If he would get around to emptying out the Pentagon Building of several thousand red tape clerks he would have enough to mop up the Reds in Viet Nam in spite of the State Department policy we've had in Korea and Viet Nam that it ain't nice to mop up the enemy.

PA'S TO CAMP WELAKA

Pahokee Park To Open Soon

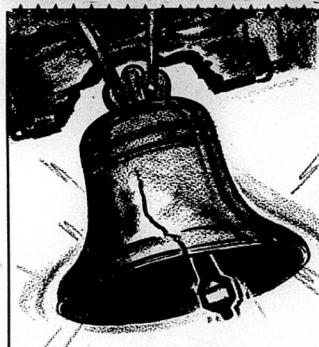

A tentative early July date has been set for the opening of the Pahokee State Park, situated on the south shore of Lake Okechobee.

The new park, about 30 acres covering almost a mile of lake front, will have 30 campsites. Electrical outlets will be provided for 16 campers and all will have water. Free picnicking facilities will be offered at the 30 new picnic tables that have been added. The marina will offer the best facilities for boat docking because the lake is rocky and rough at the camping area.

A guide sheet to the park will be given to campers and picnickers. The cost for camping will be $2.50 per night. Comfort stations are available for use by the campers and picnickers. These have been built especially high off the ground, upon recommendation of the Corps of Engineers, for better hurricane protection.

Independence Is EVERYONE'S Business

On Independence Day, 1967, it might be well for us to remind ourselves that the freedom which we commemorate is not self-perpetuating. It is something we must work for, conscientiously and continuously, even as did our forefathers. They were ready to die for freedom; can we do less than strive to nurture and protect it?

Of the fifty-six who signed the Declaration of Independence, five were captured by the British and executed as traitors; nine others died from wounds or the hardships of the Revolutionary War. Still others saw their homes and plantations destroyed. For those who lived the reward was poverty—their possessions commandeered, their lands laid waste.

These were the men who gave us an independent America one hundred and one years ago. They are the men who pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Through their sacrifice we do have freedom. We do have our unalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Let us not take these sacred rights and our God-given freedom for granted. There are those who would chip away, little by little, these things we cherish most. It's up to us to prove that we will not be deprived of our heritage.

Property Group To Meet Friday

A public meeting of the Glades Property Management Association, to discuss plans and suggestions for the increasing tax problems, will be held at the Glades Office Building on Friday night, July 7.

The problems under speculation are: holding the line on taxes, reduction in waste and increased efficiency in spending the tax dollar, and efficiency and understanding of administrative personnel and field inspectors of Building codes and zoning, health protection, and hotel and restaurant supervision by governmental agencies.

Edgar Maxwell, Palm Beach County Tax Assessor, will be the guest speaker.

Suggestions in written form, if possible, are suggested.

Reports state operating revenues of Delta Air Lines increased 31 per cent and net income 45 per cent in 1966.

Jaycees Have Freedom Project On July 4

The Belle Glade Jaycees will initiate "Ring out for Freedom" project on the Fourth of July.

They will ask all churches and other establishments with bells to Ring out for Freedom at 9:05 AM on July Fourth, to remind us that we are still free and that we should be thankful for our "Independence" with a moment silent prayer when the bells toll.

Larry Nash, chairman of the event said that the Jaycees are ever conscious of our freedom and are reminded daily by their creed "that economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprises."

Rev. Richard Y. Roseman, local and district Chaplain for the organization, introduced the project both to local club and to the 16th District and states that Bells will Toll for Freedom throughout Palm Beach County simultaneously on Independence day at 9:05 AM.

The Patriotic minded Jaycees are presently entering the second year of their Flag Subscription service and are now again taking subscriptions from local merchants and homeowners to have the Jaycees maintain and display the American Flag on their premises on 10 major holidays and elections each year. The Jaycees put up, take down and store the flags as part of the service at a nominal cost of $15.00 for the first year and $10.00 for subsequent years.

Commission Meet Routine In Pahokee

Routine business was conducted at the Pahokee City Commissioners' meeting Tuesday night.

Included in this was a letter from the Palm Beach County Health Department, with a pamphlet enclosed, acknowledging and reviewing the garbage conditions of the individual municipalities of Palm Beach County, and a letter thanking the City of Pahokee for its cooperation in the May student council elections at Pahokee High School.

Guest speaker, Dawson New-ton, spoke on the activities of the Ocean Sciences and Engineering Council of Palm Beach County, and asked the City of Pahokee for $500 to assist the council in its work. The city, unable to do this and because appropriations in the budget were not available, will probably help next year.

Representatives from various insurance companies attended the meeting to see about possibilities of group insurance of city employees. No action was taken.

Reports state operating revenues of Delta Air Lines increased 31 per cent and net income 45 per cent in 1966.

Weaver Tells Of Road Needs

County Commissioner E. W. "Bud" Weaver told Belle Glade Lions that it is impossible for the State to catch up on road needs and get out of the "mess" we are in.

"An antiquated tax revenue system has given super highways to sparsely populated areas and left more populated areas with highly inadequate roads," He stated that he had consulted with experienced engineers and people on finances and was convinced that the currently proposed 375 million dollar bond issue is much too low — that 460 to 475 million was a more reasonable figure and that 500 million would be better due to increasing costs to obtain rights of ways and shrinking road funds available for new construction due to increased maintenance costs.

Weaver spoke to the Lions Club last week. The current 96 million dollar road budget would shrink to 25 million in 5 years, Weaver said. He likened the bond issue to the purchase of a home in which a man purchases the house which he need right now and pays for it over a period of several years while he is using it. To finance the bond issue, Weaver said that 1c per gallon tax would insure the lowest interest rate to finance the issue and would cost the average motorist traveling 10,000 miles per year but $12, a very small price to pay for a modern road system.

Weaver pointed out that tho he was in disagreement with certain portions of the currently proposed issue and is for a properly drafted issue. The currently proposed issue allots 10% of the money to Palm Beach county projects tho we are but one of 67 counties in the state.

Ron Halbrook To Visit Bible Lands

A group of eight students and two counselors from Florida College, Temple Terrace, Florida are on the verge of six weeks of "Bible Lands and Archaeological Studies."

Ron Halbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Halbrook, Jr., 509 N. E. 1st St., Belle Glade will be participating in this program. Having just finished his third year of Bible study at Florida College, Ron is looking forward to enriching his understanding of Biblical studies through this program.

The "Bible Lands and Archaeological Studies" program is one of many foreign studies offered by Foreign Language League Schools of Salt Lake City, Utah. As the name suggests, most of the studies concentrate on foreign languages. The Bible Lands study is a special program arranged under the guidance of both foreign and American Professors of Bible and Archaeology.

"These people are interested in deepening understanding of the Biblical texts," says Foreign Language brochure. Special emphasis will be given to Bible history geography and archaeology during the 80 periods of formal classroom work and informal academic work in travel, field trips, archaeology trips and excursions. College credits will be received upon successful completion of this work, which will include college level testing and a certificate of completion.

Mrs. M. W. Sindle, supervisor of the center advises that children be registered starting now before September. The children are well taken care of with a hot meal at noon time. For additional information call 996-5782.

Don't try to hold God's hand; let Him hold yours. Let Him do the holding and you do the trusting.

Read Luke 5:1-11

Simon Peter . . . fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord."

—Luke 5:8 (niv)

THESE words of Peter spell out a cry from the depths of his conscience. He took Jesus seriously! When you and I really see Jesus, He becomes not only admirable, but truly disturbing. We try to escape Him. We feel we cannot live beside Him and with ourselves at the same time, for Jesus reveals the living God.

Jesus believed in all mankind, and His warmth and appeal captured people. He was more than a teacher; He was a doer. He stressed repentance and humility, sincerity and self-sacrifice.

Would we welcome Jesus into our lives and homes if He were to appear today? Would we want Him to stay awhile and meet our closest friends? Would we be glad when He left?

Each of us desperately needs to take Jesus seriously. We need to make room for Him in our lives, to accept Him as the interpreter of our faith.

PRAYER: Dear Christ of the common way, we thank Thee for Thy compassion for all men, Thine awareness of ordinary people. Lead us to know Thee as our Savior, our vision of the eternal. In Thy name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I will consecrate my life in communion with the living Christ.

God has a purpose for each one of us, work for each one to do, a place for each one to fill, and influence for each one to exert, a likeness to His dear son for each one to manifest, and then, a place for each one to fill in His holy temple.

Summer Attendance Good At BG Baptist Center Program

Rev. James Holcombe, minister at the Belle Glade Baptist Center, who set up a summer schedule of activities at the center the first of the month is surprised to note that the attendance is very good and more are attending than he thought, as many of the migratory people leave for the summer. He is also satisfied that there will also be enough volunteer workers, even though some are gone for the summer.

He announced that the Child Day Care held each Friday from 9 to 5 is open to any pre-school children whose parents wish to go shopping or have other things to do. Members of the missionary circles of First Baptist supply an adequate lunch for the children.

The Baptist Center cooperates with the Florida Christian Ministry to Migrants at Osceola Center Nursery for children whose parents are attending the school for migrants being held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Then if more volunteers are needed at the Baptist center on Friday, Ben Hylton in charge, helps out by sending them.

Rev. Holcombe and the boys club including ages 11-14 went on camping trip recently to Pahokee to the State Park Site. All had a big time.

Mailers will be able to send 25 pound parcels between first class post offices which are 150 miles or more apart starting July 1, Postmaster Rosa A. Nash reminded patrons today.

The present weight limit is 20 pounds, she said. This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971, when a 40 pound, 84 inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. Size limitations are now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

Postmaster Nash also reminded mailers that parcels

Delegation Glad To Have Students

FROM: Robert C. DeYoung, Chairman Palm Beach County Delegation.

June 7, 8, and 9, the Palm Beach County delegation was very happy to have as their guests, through the courtesy of the Belle Glade Lions Club, 14 students from the Belle Glade High School, chaperoned by the principal, Mr. Pellon Morris, and Mr. Ed Browning, social science instructor.

This is the only student body that has attended the Legislature this year from Palm Beach

County, and we feel that it was a very worthwhile effort. The entire delegation was very happy to have played a small part in their stay in Tallahassee.

These students were the only ones out of all that have attended this session of the Legislature from all parts of the state that were able to personally meet and talk with the Governor. This alone was a very interesting experience for them.

I trust that Belle Glade High School and the Belle Glade Lions Club will continue to send such a representation to each session of the Legislature.

Dr. Lincoln attended the public schools in Belle Glade, and graduated from Everglades Vocational High School in 1952. He enrolled in the Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University, Tallahassee. Upon graduation he was commissioned second lieutenant in the Army Medical Service Corps and served for two years on active duty. He taught science from 1959 to 1962 at Lincoln High School, Rinker Beach, Florida. In 1962 he was appointed to the position of social worker with the Florida State Department of Public Welfare, West Palm Beach. In 1965 he received the Master of Science in Education degree at Indiana University, Bloomington and served as a teaching associate at the University during the 1966-1967 school year. Recently, he accepted an appointment as Associate Professor and Director of Student Teaching at Kentucky State College, Frankfort.

Free Movies Available In Glades Area

Movies, free for the asking, are available to clubs and other organized groups in the Glades area. Charles Leonard, Southern Bell manager, said that the company has a wide variety of motion pictures available without charge to civic, religious, community and youth groups. The demand for movies is high during the fall, winter and spring seasons, Leonard noted. However, during summer months when school is out and when many organizations do not meet regularly, most films are readily available. The movies cover such a wide range of subjects that almost any group is sure to find one or several of interest," he said. "Most of the films which run from eight to 60 minutes—are in color." Arrangements for borrowing a film can be made through Southern Bell's local business office.

Janet Chambliss: Shari S., my gym clothes willed to me by Sharon A., to Linda R., my Communism book and the memories of our great Short-hand class and the struggles through bookkeeping; to the 1967 Rams football team, my nephews Jimmy and Mike, all leave.

J. Herbert Snyder of the University of California Department of Agricultural Economics is quoted as saying that the legislation opens the way for orderly, planned preservation of the state's best farm land as open space around cities.

Mr. Snyder bluntly puts it this way: each individual farmer must decide if he wants to continue to be a farmer. If he does, then he must dedicate himself to agriculture.

The legislation provides that the farmers who choose to remain in agriculture may voluntarily enter into agreements or contracts with local government regulating the non-agricultural development rights on their land.

California's farm real estate taxes are said to have equalled or even exceeded net farm income in some areas of urban encroachment.
